

Admission Requirements to Doctor of Dental Medicine:

To be eligible for admission, applicants must:

- Be a Canadian citizen or Permanent Resident. Preference is given to residents of British Columbia. A maximum of 10% of out-of province applicants will be accepted each year.
- Complete three academic years (90 credits) at a recognized faculty at the University of British Columbia, or its equivalent, by April, for admission to the following September
- Achieve a minimum overall GPA of 70% or 2.8 on a 4.0 grading scale for ALL college/ university coursework (including failed courses). The GPA is calculated on all university-transferable coursework completed since high school. Courses taken in the application year are not included in GPA calculation that is used when considering applicants for admission. The worst year will be dropped for applicants who have completed four or more years of college/ university, provided it has at least 24 credits and is not the most recent year.
- Complete the required prerequisite courses by April in the academic year in which they apply
- Write the DAT (Dental Aptitude Test) exam. DAT scores from the November exam in the year of application will be accepted for the application deadline.
