Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Describe the business of producing and promoting popular music in the context of present-day technological developments.
- Identify how popular music is made as the result of creative and commercial decision-making.
- Evaluate popular music in terms of its ability to reflect the status quo and enforce conformity and also in terms of its oppositional nature and emancipatory potential.
- Assess the criteria by which industry professionals and fans make decisions as to what is good and bad music.
- Identify how audience members integrate popular music into their lives in terms of fashion, dance, language and talk.
- Define the place and role of popular music within youth subcultures and other subcultures (ethnic, age-related, etc.).
- Identify the global diffusion of popular music genres and artists, with its contradictory effects of encouraging cultural homogeneity and heterogeneity at different times and in different places.
- Discuss contemporary or recent musical phenomena in terms of their social relevance.
