

Summary:

Over years of self-motivated international speaking for an equality of life for less fortunate families in developing countries, I have organized local, national, and international events, seminars, conferences and workshops. I discussed with the public, business owners, community and church leaders, professional organizations executives covering such topics as: education, capacity building, peace, labor, conflict resolution, sponsorships, partnerships and future strategies for developing countries. Independence and the support of democracy are what have made me who I am today.

My Teaching Vision:

My desire is to share with the public my knowledge and to care, to assist and to raise awareness which will incorporate my vision strategies life mission.

My vision on education is to address the strategies required to build a healthy community which will includes the training of community members to achieve:

- a) An ability to apply their basics skills into self-sufficient projects
- b) An ability to design and conduct experiments, as well as analyses and interpret data.
- c) An ability to design a system, component, or process to meet desired needs
- d) An ability to function on multidisciplinary teams
- e) An ability to identify, dialogue, and solve problems
- t) An understanding of professional and ethical responsibility
- g) An ability to communicate effectively
- h) The broad education necessary to understand conflict resolutions in a global/societal context

j) A recognition of the need for and an ability to engage in life-long learning.

i) An ability to use the technology.

My teaching goals are:

- To enhance equal opportunity the values of pluralistic, interdependent society
- To improve the economic and social well being of the disadvantaged and their communities, foster self sufficiency.
- To encourage communication, understanding, and cooperation among diverse cultural, ethnic, and socio-economic groups.
- To enrich the quality and diversity of educational, cultural, health, and human service programs by emphasis voluntarism spirit.

My passion is to work with people. We all share fundamentally the same needs and wants. People's hearts are one, my heart is the same as your heart. It is the same heart that beats in other countries and other continent. It is the heart worldwide. We are one in the greatest family.

Mission:

I have devoted my life and am committed to care, assist, raise awareness, and to support unaccompanied minors, seniors, and people with special needs through grass roots projects that develop life-long learning and self-sufficiency.

I Believe:

I believe that we are one in the greatest family. It wants us to join hands in working for human progress, common good, and at the same time assuring respect for human values and dignity.