What is Orange Shirt Day?

Orange Shirt Day, created in 2013, was born out of the experience Phyllis Webstad had while attending the St. Joseph Mission school. Phyllis is a member of the Secwepemc Nation and of the Canoe Creek Indian Band

Why is Orange Shirt Day Important?

Orange Shirt Day honors residential school survivors and provides an opportunity to remember the children who did not survive. Every September 30th people across Canada wear orange shirts as part of their act of reconciliation, remembrance, and recognition.
