POLICY

University of the Fraser Valley recognizes the value of properly organized and administered study tours. When possible, the university will provide a modest annual budget to support approved tours; such funding to be an approved line item in the university operating budget.

Study tours will be approved by the appropriate Dean upon consideration of a tour proposal which will demonstrate the educational value of the tour, adequate tour planning, a budget showing full costs to students and the university, and other measures being taken to ensure the success of the tour. Study tours may be offered on a credit and/or non-credit basis.
